JOHNSON AMENDMENT IS DEFEATED SURPRISE WHEN VOTE IS CALLED FOR

HITCHCOCK READY TO FORCE ACTION WHEN LODGE SAID "WHY NOT DO IT NOW?", SO THEY DID IT

NO NOTICE GIVEN; MANY ABSENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27—By a vote of 38 to 40 the Senate today defeated the Johnson amendment to the peace treaty.

The vote came unexpectedly at the request of Senator Lodge after Senator Hitchcock, Administration leader, announced he would ask for unanimous consent to vote at 1:30 p. m.

"I don't see why we cannot have a vote right now," Lodge declared, and the roll was called without further delay.

The Johnson amendment would have given the United States a number of votes in the League equal to any other power.

Immediately after the defeat of the amendment, Senator Johnson, of California, introduced a second amendment which seeks to occupy the same objection as the first one.

A number of Senators were absent when the roll was called. No advance notice of the vote having been issued.

HEARING IN BRICK CASE CONTINUED UNTIL TOMORROW

The hearing in the injunction proceedings of the Winburne Fire Brick Co. vs. Thomas M. Wilson the promoter who organized the company, which took up the better part of Saturday last, was continued by Judge Bell until Tuesday morning after Wilson's story, H. A. Murray his attorney, arose and stated to the court that the man was very nervous and really needed medical attention. He had been under high tension ever since his arrest and from his manner on the stand was plainly unable to think clearly at this time. Mr. Liveright said they had a large number of witnesses to present and as it would be unable to conclude Saturday they had no objection to a continuance.

The hearing was then continued until Tuesday morning at which time the plaintiffs will unfold their side of the story.

Following is a resume of the latter part of Wilson's testimony to complete the story in Saturday evening's Progress:

He said the contract between himself and the Winburne Fire brick company was placed upon the minutes of the company but that the minute book has been lost. He said there was but one copy of this contract. This contract was made by W. A. McCoy, Esq., and he could re write same from memory. Under this contract he was to furnish clay and coal to the brick company at a royalty of 10 cents per ton, with a minimum of $2000 worth the first year; $3000 the second, and $5000 per year thereafter. That was the term of the lease made with Snyder and in return for the transfer of this lease to the company he was to receive 100 shares of the preferred stock and 3000 shares of the common stock.

His house was the office of the company because they had not completed the building of one, having been delayed in their construction work by reason of delay in getting railroad sidings. All directors had access to the office and books at all times as the bookkeeper was always on duty.

Of the 5000 shares of common stock he had received 3000 shares, the company yet owned 1500 shares and 500 had been given out as bonuses in stock shares.

The preferred stock consisted of 10,000 shares of a par value of $100 each. Of these he received 100 shares and shares had been sold for cash, etc. The cash received was bonds and notes put in safety deposit box in his charge. The cash was deposited at Winburne and he had no money of the brick company on deposit in any other bank.

He presented a statement showing amount of cash etc., received and the expenditures of the company up to this time. Total receipts was $42,878.85.

He said it was decided at a meeting of the company to sell the Liberty Bonds for the purpose of raising money for expenses. He had never been asked for the bonds by the Treasurer and he held the bonds and notes for the company.

MISTAKE EACH OTHER FOR ROBBERS; BOTH SHOT

CONNELLSVILLE — Mistaking each other for a robber, two railroad employes engaged in a revolver duel here early today, in which both men were shot. Daniel Winder, B. & O. detective, is in a local hospital with two bullet wounds in his neck, and P. J. Hennessy, watchman for the Western Maryland railway, is suffering from wounds in his leg. Two loads of freight cars damaged in a recent wreck, were placed on a siding and both men were assigned by their respective employers to guard the cars. Winder and Hennessy approached the cars fro mopposite sides, and sighting each other, opened fire. Each man emptied his revolver. Winder fell and Hennessy continued firing until the mistake was discovered by other railroad men who were attracted to the scene by the firing.

President's Appeal To U. M. W. Of A.

President Wilson issued the the following statement on the threatened coal strike:

"On September 23, 1919, the convention of the United Mine Workers of America at Cleveland, Ohio, adopted a proposal declaring that all contracts in the bituminous field shall be declared as having automically expired November 1, 1919, and making various demands, including a 60 per cent. increase in wages and the adoption of a six-hour work day and a five-day week; and providing that, in the event a satisfactory wage agreement should not be secured for the central competitive field before November 1, 1919, the national officials should be authorized and instructed to call a general strike of all bituminous miners and mine workers throughout the United States, effective November 1, 1919:

"Pursuant to these instructions the officers of the organization have issued a call to make the strike effective November 1. This is one of the gravest steps ever proposed in this country, affecting the economic welfare and the domestic comfort and health of the people. It is proposed to abrogate an agreement as to wages, which was made with the sanction of the United States fuel administration, and which was to run during the continuance of the war, but not beyond April 1, 1920.

Would Shut Off Country's Supply

"This strike is proposed at a time when the government is making the most earnest effort to reduce the cost of living and has appealed with success to other classes of workers to postpone similar disputes until a reasonable opportunity has been afforded for dealing with the cost of living. It is recognized that the strike would virtually shut off the countrys supply of its principal fuel at a time when interference with that supply is calculated to create a disastrous fuel famine. All interests would be affected alike by a strike of this character and its victims would not be the rich only, but the poor and the needy as well—those least able to provide in advance a fuel supply for domestic use.

"It would involve the shutting down of countless industries and the throwing out of employment a large part of the workers of the country. It would involve stopping the operation of railroads, electric light and gas plants, street railway lines, and other public utilities and the shipping to and from this country, thus preventing our giving aid to the allied countries with supplies which they so seriously need. The country is confronted with this prospect at a time when the war itself is still a fact, when the world is still in suspense as to negotiations for peace, when our troops are still being transported and when their means of transport is in urgent need of fuel.

"From whatever angle the subject may be viewed, it is apparent that such a strike in such circumstances would be the most far-reaching plan ever presented in this country to limit the facilities of production and distribution of a necessity of life, and thus indirectly to restrict the production and distribution of all the necessaries of life. A strike under these conditions is not only unjustifiable, it is unlawful.

"The action proposed has apparently been taken without any vote upon the specific proposition by the individual members of the United Mine Workers of America throughout the United States, an almost unprecedented proceeding. I cannot believe that any right of any Amrican worker needs for its protection the taking of this extraordinary step, and I am convinced that when the time and manner are considered it constitutes a fundamental attack, which is wrong both morally and legally, upon the rights of society and upon the welfare of our country. I feel convinced that individual members of the United Mine Workers would not vote, upon full consideration, in favor of such a strike under these conditions.

Public Interest Paramount

"When a movement reaches the point where it appears to involve virtually the entire productive capacity of the country with respect to one of the most vital necessities of daily domestic and industrial life, and when the movement is asserted in the circumstances I have stated and at a time and in a manner calculated to involve the maximum of danger to the public welfare in this critical hour of our countrys life, the public interest becomes the paramount consideration.

"In these circumstances I solemnly request both the national and the local officers and also the individual members of the United Mine Workers of America to recall all orders looking to a strike on November 11, and to take whatever steps may be necessary to prevent any stoppage of work.

"It is time for plain speaking. These matters with which we now deal touch not only the welfare of a class, but vitally concern the well-being, the comfort and the very life of all the people.

"I feel it my duty in the public interest to declare that any attempt to carry out the purposes of this strike and thus to paralyze the industry of the country, with the consequent suffering and distress of all our people, must be considered a grave moral and legal wrong against the government and the people of the United States. I can do nothing less than to say that the law will be enforced and means will be found to protect the interests of the nation in any emergency that may arise out of this unhappy business.

"I express no opinion on the merits of the controversy. I have already suggested a plan by which a settlement may be reached, and I hold myself in readiness, at the request of either or both sides, to appoint at once a tribunal to investigate all the facts; with a view to aiding in the earliest possible orderly settlement of the question at issue between the coal operators and the coal miners, to the end that the just rights not only of those interests but also of the general public may be fully protected."

"Situation Not Changed" Comment Of Mr. Lewis With Respect To Wilson's Plea

NO FORMAL REPLY EXPECTED FROM MINE WORKERS BEFORE WEDNESDAY WHEN EXECUTIVE BODY MEETS

PRESIDENT'S CABINET TO MEET

SPRINGFIELD, ILL, Oct. 27—John L. Lewis, acting President of the United Mine Workers on his arrival at his home here from Washington stated the situation was unchanged by the appeal of President Wilson to cancel the strike order.

The reply to the President's appeal will probably be drafted by the executive board of the union at a meeting to be held in Indianapolis Wednesday. The meeting was called to make financial arrangements for the walk out.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27—While awaiting the miners' answer to the request for withdrawal of the coal strike, government officials today were ready to act to protect the public interest if the coal strike is called.

There are several openings through which the government might step into the coal conference. The present contract which expires at the end of the war or April 1, 1920, was made by the Fuel Administration, a government agency. This was pointed out specifically by President Wilson in his warning to the miners Saturday as indicating the government considers the proposed strike unlawful.

The food control law also give the government an opportunity to take a hand in the strike through its provisions making it illegal to interfere with production and allowing the government to take over mines to insure continued production.

Even without this law officials here point out that the Supreme Court's broad definition of war powers would give the government plenty of latitude for action. In the case of war laws the Supreme Court declared that the government could do almost anything in the interest of national existence.

When the two sides of the coal controversy finally get together to discuss matters it is expected the government will not allow negotiations to drag. Miners in previously refusing to call off the strike said that prolonging negotiations was the aim of the operators. While preparing plans for a new industrial conference to take up the industrial situation in its broader aspect officials here today believed that a rescindation of the coal strike order would probably come.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27—The cabinet marked time Sunday in anticipation of word from John L. Lewis, president of the U. M. W. of A. as to what policy the leaders of the mine workers union would pursue in reference to the demands of President Wilson that they rescind their strike orders.

The strike will go into effect November 1st, but in administration circles here last night there was a report that the miners' representatives were considering calling their convention to debate whether or not they should withdraw the strike orders and accept the President's proposal to appoint a tribunal to bring about a settlement.

Meantime members of the cabinet prepared to present to the President at their meeting Tuesday suggestions of names for the personnel of the new committee, to be composed of persons who represent solely the public, at a new conference which will take the place of the ill-fated industrial conference.

The name of former President Taft, who served during the war as chairman of the National War Labor board, was mentioned as one of those who would likely be chosen by the President for service on the new body. Bernard M. Baruch, who was chairman of the public group in the industrial conference, is also expected to be named again by the President.

There was no disposition among the members of the cabinet today to be agitated over the coal strike. The individual members are of the opinion that the President's statement practically takes the form of a demand which the miners cannot refuse and that they will see the matter in much the same way as he portrayed it.

As the cabinet meets again Tuesday it will be ready then to take whatever further steps are thought necessary to protect the public's interest in the event the miners continue their threats to bring on a strike.

No administration official tonight would venture an opinion as to what measures the cabinet would adopt should the miners refuse to accede to the wishes of the President.

We are told that perfect harmony reigned at the Democratic meeting on Saturday evening. It is hard to stir up trouble in a bakers dozen.

The DuBois Courier says that a real Republican is one who votes the Republican ticket. No Republican should lose sight of this fact a week from tomorrow.

We have often heard that the angle of a man's moustache or his cigar denotes the state of his spirits. Now our suspicions are confirmed. We have just seen a picture of the Kaiser, sans pointed moustache, and with a pointed beard. In justice to the devil we must say that his looks are improved.

SOMETHING TO RECALL WHEN YOU BUY YOUR NEXT PAIR OF SHOES

Buyers of shoes at the present soaring prices may be consoled to learn that the Central Leather Company's report for the quarter ending September 30 shows a surplus, after charges and Federal taxes of $4,012,195, a gain over corresponding quarter of last year of $2,103,080 or 110 PER CENT.

Deducting preferred dividends, the earnings per share for this quarter are reckoned at $8.63, as compared with $3.34 for the similar quarter in 1918, or a gain of 258 PER CENT.

For the nine months of this year, in comparison with the same period past year, the ratio of net gains per share is $21.69 to $8.62 an increase of 251 PER CENT.

The citizen whose wages have increased in equal proportion as he empties his purse at the shoe store, will be glad to feel that the Leather Trust is also prosperous.

OUR INTERESTS AND THE COAL MINERS' INTEREST

The right of labor to organize in groups for their protection and mutual benefit should not be questioned. The justice and advisability of the eight hour day is a proven theory and comes the nearest to an ideal working condition which can be attained so far as hours of labor are concerned. Organizd labor has brought about practically every condition which it set about to accomplish.

Organized labor, or that particular branch of organized labor known as the United Mine Workers having won out in all their previous demands, now seeks to go a step farther and bring about conditions which will conflict with the best interests of the whole people. On this point, the whole people cannot agree with the miners, and this is probably the first time in history in which the miners have not had the good wishes of Mr. Average Citizen. It does not take any lengthy mental calculation for the ordinary man to tell where he will land if the demands of the miners are met entire. That it will double the cost of his winter supply of coal is indeed a conservative estimate.

Is it really the rank and file of the mine workers who make these demands or is it the controlling heads of the union who seek to make big gains to make themselves solid with the organization members. It is a well known fact that there is much dissention among those who would control the policy of the mine workers. Mr. Lewis evidently hopes to "bring home the bacon" and gain the plaudits of those who cast the ballots.

Organized labor has its rights and should jealously guard them. But when its demands are such that they inflict hardships on the whole people it invites disaster.

It is for the rank and file of the mine workers to pull a tight rein on their revolutionary leader, Mr. Lewis. He will run wild and drag the whole organization into disrepute.

Mrs. Myrtle Burkett who spent most of the summer months with her brother T. F. McClure at Lichfield, Minn. has returned to Curwensville and will soon remove her household goods from Filbert street to the Unger property on State street.

The order of Protected Home Circle after an interesting meeting last Friday evening, repaired to the dime social in the Lutheran church and regaled themselves with substantial refreshments.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Minnhinett, at their home on South Side of Anderson creek, near the upper bridge, on Saturday morning a daughter.

Rev. Liwe, Jr., of Brookville, preached to an attentive congregation Sunday morning in Grace Lutheran church.

Through the kindness of W. K. Wrigley last Saturday, the Progress man was given a pleasure ride to Lumber City and Grampian, and noticed a few things as he went along. The hill leading down to the bridge at the Watts farm is not a very safe route to travel, from the fact that the railings are all gone from the posts at the lower side of the road and a number of the posts are so loose that a very small pressure would send them over the hill. From the foot of the hill to Lumber City part of the highway was in bad condition but for most part passable. The fall grain fields looked thrifty and able to come through the winter without much loss from a freeze. The brick works, one mile on this side of town is a valuable asset to the towns financial progress, although a number of comfortable homes have bene erected at the plant, and others are in progress of erection, making the population at that point several hundred souls. The business houses at Lumber City all seemed to be doing a thriving trade, despite the fact that a general store is maintained at the brick plant, owned and conducted by Ed. Ferguson. We did not tarry long in the river town, and took the hill road for Grampian finding the highway in far better condition than from Curwensville to Lumber City. There is not much of note in covering this lap of our journey, except that the corn shocks are still standing in the fields unshocked. Grampian is a busy place, or was last Saturday afternoon. Several new buildings are in course of erection and we were informed that a new and commodious structure would soon be erected on the ground which the fire burned over recently. Taking all things into consideration, Grampian, to our mind, is one of the busiest cleanest villages in this end of the county.

Roy Berger has moved onto the Clark Norris farm, lately vacated by Norman Shaffer.

Mrs. Horn, of Philipsburg, was entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Russell several days during the latter part of last week.

On account of the late arrival of the morning train and school boys noon period being so short, on some newspaper routes we have been unable to get boys out until after school in the evening. If this continues and is unsatisfactory to any readers and decide that they would prefer the paper by mail will you consider our position for which we are not accountable and let us order same for you by mail. We will appreciate this cooperation.

MARY PICKFORD IN

A Romance of the Redwoods

Folks, we're going to be frank with you. This is what YOU would term an "OLD" picture. That's why we booked it. Because it is one of those exquisite human documents of the screen that will live forever. It is one of those classics of the screen—REAL pictorial literature. And don't forget that this is the same MARY PICKFORD who delighted us in "DADDY LONG LEGS."

AURORA MARDIGANIAN HERSELF IN

"AUCTION OF SOULS"

This is the most unusual picture ever shown in this or any other theatre on earth. It shows, with vivid intensity, the terrible experiences that befell the girlhood of the peaceful Armenian nation. And how Miss Mardganian was the sole survivor of 500,000 girls that received unspeakable treatment at the hand of the infamous Turk. This picture is indorsed by Cardinal Gibbons, Governor Sproul, thousands of American women. We urge every adult to be present. Children under 16 not admitted. Read a description of the picture in tonight's paper.

CONSTANCE TALMADGE IN

Sauce For The Goose

We feel it unnecessary to make nothing more than a mere announcement when we play CONSTANCE TALMADGE, or her equally illustrious sister NORMA, because they are such favorites with our patrons. Suffice to say that this is a swift and joyous comedy taken from the play by the same name. Friend husband is an author and is paying too much attion to another woman. Faithful Constance effects a cure—then Hubby finds her in his friends bed! And that's only the beginning! Oh Boy.

WOLGAST ILL BUT M'COY WILL COME BACK FOR FIGHT

Manager McGowan was forced to switch principals in his boxing contest at the park tonight. He was advised by wire this morning by Johnny Wolgast that he had been taken suddenly ill and would have to ask for a postponement of his bout with Jack Fink the fighting marine.

Mr. McGowan immediately got in touch with Young McCoy, of Altoona, and McCoy agreed to come over and substitute for Wolgast.

The fighting "Devil Dog" arrived in Clearfield this morning in company with business manager Furnins, and looks very well able to take care of himself in any kind of company. Fink is under the management of Jimmy Dime the New Castle promoter, one of the best known followers of the boxing game in Western Pennsylvania, which fact alone, is an evidence of his class.

McCoy is in good shape and boxing fans may rest assured they will be given a real run for their money tonight.

TROXELL—SPACKMAN

Miss Hazel P. Spackman, of Woodland, formerly of Clearfield, and one of our most popular young ladies, and Mr. Glasgow B. Troxell, son of Mrs. Sarah Troxell and the late John M. Troxell, of this city, were married on Thursday evening at the parsonage of the Trinity Lutheran church, Bedford, Pa., by Rev. C. R. Allenbach, pastor, who was also formerly of Clearfield and friend and pastor of the young people. The young couple motored to Bedford, and the simple, yet impressive and beautiful ring ceremony of the Lutheran Church was used at seven o'clock.

Mr and Mrs. Troxell were unattended. The bride wore a beautiful tailor made gown with large picture hat to match. They will tour the western part of the state and will be at home in Clearfield after the third of November. The best wishes of a large circle of friends for a happy wedded life go with these young people, in which the Progress joins.

Washday and Your Own Good Health

Have you ever considered how washday is related to your own good health? Physicians generally concede that there is much need for being especially cautious on washday during the fall and winter months.

The hot water and cold, the dampness, the steaming, and the exposure of washday are all of them done away with when you send us your family washing.

We help you protect your health—and we do your washing with the same thoroughness and consideration you would give to it yourself. Moreover, we sterilize as well as cleanse the things that come to us.

Try our Family Laundry Service these fall and winter days. Telephone and we will instruct our driver to call for your family bundle.

WINBURNE LODGE I. O. O. F. INSTALL NEW OFFICERS

Winburne Lodge No. 61, I. O. O. F., met in regular session Friday, October 17th, at which time the lodge was visited by District Deputy Grand Master H. K. Smith, of Clearfield, and staff, who installed officers for the current term. Visiting brothers were present from Clearfield, Allport and Forest City Lodge, of Kylertown. After the close of the meeting many of the visiting and local members gave short talks.

Forest City Lodge met in extra session Thursday, October 23rd, and at this meeting the newly elected officers were installed in their respective offices for the current term, by District Deputy Grand Master H. K. Smith and staff. Winburne members returned the visit of the Friday before. Philadelphia was represented by one member, Allport was well represented and about eighteen members from Clearfield were present.

Forest City Lodge also served delightful refreshments after the meeting and the participants were reluctant to break up the gathering even after the hour hand of the clock had passed the largest figure on the dial.

In the short speeches that were given everything that was said was said for a purpose. The orphans home at Meadville, Penna, was the most discussed topic and all present showed great interest in this branch of the work.

District Deputy Grand Master Smith and staff, together with friends, left both organizations more enthusiastic about the work. Nothing is better than to meet such men as represented Clearfield, and Odd Fellows who attended these meetings considered them pleasant, uplifting and profitable.

EAGLER GETS FOUR YEAR SENTENCE TO THE PENITENTIARY

Herman Eagler, the LaJose youth, who shot Gilbert Tozer at LaJose several months ago, while endeavoring to escape arrest at the hands of Constable George Worrell and a posse, was sentenced to the penitentiary by Judge Bell this morning.

At the time of the shooting Constable Worrell, young Tozer and another deputy, went to the Eagler home for the purpose of arresting the young man for stealing an automobile. Eagler dashed out the back door of the house and when Tozer called upon him to halt, he blazed away with a revolver, the bullet lodging in Tozer's side, inflicting a painful wound. Eagler got away but was later arrested by the State Police at Loretta, Pa.

He entered a plea of guilty to felonious shooting and was given a fine of $100, costs of prosecution and not more than twelve nor less than four years in the penitentiary.

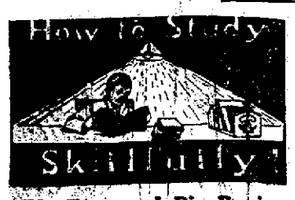
THIS COLUMN FOR BOYS AND GIRLS AND PARENTS



Big Facts and Big Berries

BY ARTHUR DETMERS.
Francis W. Parker School

"Remember, my son, that you cannot remember everything."

Does that seem useless advice? I know it isn't. Many boys and girls go at a lesson as they would put dominoes into a box—everything in the lesson is just as big and important as every other thing. This is never so.

There are always big facts and little facts, just as there are big berries and small ones on any bush. Get the big berries first; if the basket isn't full, pick the others afterward.

But how can you tell important facts from unimportant ones? It takes practice to do that perfectly, but if you keep at it the skill comes. When you attack a lesson, always ask yourself

this question, and always be sure you get an answer: What is the lesson about? It seems simple, but you probably have no idea how many boys and girls can't tell, even after they have studied faithfully. They know a lot of things about the lesson, but they don't really know the lesson. Get a definite answer to your question.

Nearly always the lesson is about Somebody or Something. When you have discovered this, your study consists in putting together all the facts that seem necessary, or at least important, to understand and explain that Person or Thing. Do not spend your time on minor facts, that may be interesting enough, but are not essential to a clear understanding of the subject.

For instance, the history lesson is about the French and Indian War. Now what do we want to know about any war? What were the causes, the big events, the results: that's all. When you know clearly and surely the answer to these three questions, you know your lesson. Take the questions one by one, and when you know the answer, you may know that you know the lesson.

The Birds On Your Map

BY ADELIA BELLE BEARD.

Mobilization begins early. July often sees the BOBOLINK on his road to Brazil and in August other little citizens of the air gather in more or less noisy companies and regiments for their annual evacuation of the north. But it is later that the great rush to get under way is made; later still, sometimes into December, loiterers are seen winging their flight to lands of sunshine and plenty.

BLACKBIRDS and SWALLOWS gather for the onward march in August, the Blackbirds headed for the southern part of the United States, the Swallows for the extreme Southern States and South America. Find the location of your town or city on the map, run your pen handle down from there to these places and you will be on the trail of the birds.

September is the month when WARBLERS—including the little Black and White Creeper and the beautiful, orange-breasted Blackburnian Warbler—assemble and pass over our heads at night on their long trip to Central and South America. In October the WHIP-POOR-WILL waves his wing to us and is off to his winter haunts somewhere south of the United States. In October and November birds of the SPARROW FAMILY (not the English Sparrows) begin their journey. Look for them now. When you see a dusky flock of small birds rise from a field and settle again in low trees or shrubbery, you may be pretty sure they are Sparrows making ready for flight many to the Gulf States, some to Mexico.

Central America is often chosen as a winter resort by the ORIOLE of the swinging nest and his brother the ORCHARD ORIOLE. The valiant KINGBIRD favors both Central and South America.

The chief highways of the birds follow coastlines, mountain chains, and river valleys. Various stops are made, but the plucky little airmen do not hesitate to take long ocean voyages when necessary. The GOLDEN PLOVER, flying from Nova Scotia to South America, travels two thousand four hundred miles over the sea.

The Rev. Dr. James S. McGaw, executive secretary for the Third World's Christian Citizenship Conference, in a statement issued at its headquarters, 209 Ninth street, Pittsburgh, said regarding the principles underlying the conference and some of the concrete questions to be considered:

"The Conference will make real the great message of the Scripture by applying it to actual world needs. It will bring Divinity closer to humanity in all public thinking. It will answer a multitude of questions that arise in every human heart in this tremendous hour of crisis. It will allay the fears and inspire the souls of men as they undertake the stupendous task of the rehabilitation of a war-worn world."

Much Assistance Rendered by Dogs, Guinea Fowls and Turkey Gobblers —Use Steel Traps.

Dogs, guinea fowl and turkey gobblers help to keep away chicken hawks. But for catching them it is recommended to set spring traps on the top of posts, poles or tree stumps where they may be seen to be in the habit of perching and where other birds or animals would not be likely to get caught. A good gun in the hands of a crack shot is a good exterminator.

The First Dose Gave Relief

C. E. Summers, Holdredge, Neb., writes: "Some time ago I contracted a very severe cough and cold due to exposure. My cough got so bad I could hardly sleep for two or three nights. A friend of mine recommended Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and I got a 50c bottle. The very first dose relieved me. I took a second dose before going to bed and can truthfully say I did not cough once all night. By using as directed the next two days my cough was entirely gone, and I give Foley's Honey and Tar full credit for my speedy and permanent recovery."

For more than thirty years Foley's Honey and Tar has been used with satisfaction and success.

JOHNSON AMENDMENT IS DEFEATED SURPRISE WHEN VOTE IS CALLED FOR

HITCHCOCK READY TO FORCE ACTION WHEN LODGE SAID "WHY NOT DO IT NOW?", SO THEY DID IT

NO NOTICE GIVEN; MANY ABSENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27—By a vote of 38 to 40 the Senate today defeated the Johnson amendment to the peace treaty.

The vote came unexpectedly at the request of Senator Lodge after Senator Hitchcock, Administration leader, announced he would ask for unanimous consent to vote at 1:30 p. m.

"I don't see why we cannot have a vote right now," Lodge declared, and the roll was called without further delay.

The Johnson amendment would have given the United States a number of votes in the League equal to any other power.

Immediately after the defeat of the amendment, Senator Johnson, of California, introduced a second amendment which seeks to occupy the same objection as the first one.

A number of Senators were absent when the roll was called. No advance notice of the vote having been issued.

PRESIDENT PROGRESSES IN HEALTH MAY ACT ON PROHIBITION LAW

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27—"The President's progress continues as during the past few days satisfactorily." The bulletin issued at noon today by Drs. WASHINGTON, Oct. 27—The national prohibition act to enforce war time and constitutional prohibition was laid before President Wilson today. Carrying with him the bill and the opinion of Attorney General Palmer as to its constitutionality. Secretary Tumulty went to the President's room shortly after noon. An announcement of the Presidents decision on the bill is expected later today.

HEARING IN BRICK CASE CONTINUED UNTIL TOMORROW

The hearing in the injunction proceedings of the Winburne Fire Brick Co. vs. Thomas M. Wilson the promoter who organized the company, which took up the better part of Saturday last, was continued by Judge Bell until Tuesday morning after Wilson's story, H. A. Murray his attorney, arose and stated to the court that the man was very nervous and really needed medical attention. He had been under high tension ever since his arrest and from his manner on the stand was plainly unable to think clearly at this time. Mr. Liveright said they had a large number of witnesses to present and as it would be unable to conclude Saturday they had no objection to a continuance.

The hearing was then continued until Tuesday morning at which time the plaintiffs will unfold their side of the story.

Following is a resume of the latter part of Wilson's testimony to complete the story in Saturday evening's Progress:

He said the contract between himself and the Winburne Fire brick company was placed upon the minutes of the company but that the minute book has been lost. He said there was but one copy of this contract. This contract was made by W. A. McCoy, Esq., and he could re write same from memory. Under this contract he was to furnish clay and coal to the brick company at a royalty of 10 cents per ton, with a minimum of $2000 worth the first year; $3000 the second, and $5000 per year thereafter. That was the term of the lease made with Snyder and in return for the transfer of this lease to the company he was to receive 100 shares of the preferred stock and 3000 shares of the common stock.

His house was the office of the company because they had not completed the building of one, having been delayed in their construction work by reason of delay in getting railroad sidings. All directors had access to the office and books at all times as the bookkeeper was always on duty.

Of the 5000 shares of common stock he had received 3000 shares, the company yet owned 1500 shares and 500 had been given out as bonuses to stock shares.

The preferred stock consisted of 10,000 shares of a par value of $100 each. Of these he received 100 shares and shares had been sold for cash, etc. The cash received was bonds and notes put in safety deposit box in his charge. The cash was deposited at Winburne and he had no money of the brick company on deposit in any other bank.

He presented a statement showing amount of cash etc., received and the expenditures of the company up to this time. Total receipts was $42,878.85.

He said it was decided at a meeting of the company to sell the Liberty Bonds for the purpose of raising money for expenses. He had never been asked for the bonds by the Treasurer and he held the bonds and notes for the company.

MISTAKE EACH OTHER FOR ROBBERS; BOTH SHOT

CONNELLSVILLE — Mistaking each other for a robber, two railroad employes engaged in a revolver duel here early today, in which both men were shot. Daniel Winder, B. & O. detective, is in a local hospital with two bullet wounds in his neck, and P. J. Hennessy, watchman for the Western Maryland railway, is suffering from wounds in his leg. Two loads of freight cars damaged in a recent wreck, were placed on a siding and both men were assigned by their respective employers to guard the cars. Winder and Hennessy approached the cars fro mopposite sides, and sighting each other, opened fire. Each man emptied his revolver. Winder fell and Hennessy continued firing until the mistake was discovered by other railroad men who were attracted to the scene by the firing.

President's Appeal To U. M. W. Of A.

President Wilson issued the the following statement on the threatened coal strike:

"On September 23, 1919, the convention of the United Mine Workers of America at Cleveland, Ohio, adopted a proposal declaring that all contracts in the bituminous field shall be declared as having automically expired November 1, 1919, and making various demands, including a 60 per cent. increase in wages and the adoption of a six-hour work day and a five-day week; and providing that, in the event a satisfactory wage agreement should not be secured for the central competitive field before November 1, 1919, the national officials should be authorized and instructed to call a general strike of all bituminous miners and mine workers throughout the United States, effective November 1, 1919:

"Pursuant to these instructions the officers of the organization have issued a call to make the strike effective November 1. This is one of the gravest steps ever proposed in this country, affecting the economic welfare and the domestic comfort and health of the people. It is proposed to abrogate an agreement as to wages, which was made with the sanction of the United States fuel administration, and which was to run during the continuance of the war, but not beyond April 1, 1920.

Would Shut Off Country's Supply

"This strike is proposed at a time when the government is making the most earnest effort to reduce the cost of living and has appealed with success to other classes of workers to postpone similar disputes until a reasonable opportunity has been afforded for dealing with the cost of living. It is recognized that the strike would virtually shut off the countrys supply of its principal fuel at a time when interference with that supply is calculated to create a disastrous fuel famine. All interests would be affected alike by a strike of this character and its victims would not be the rich only, but the poor and the needy as well—those least able to provide in advance a fuel supply for domestic use.

"It would involve the shutting down of countless industries and the throwing out of employment a large part of the workers of the country. It would involve stopping the operation of railroads, electric light and gas plants, street railway lines, and other public utilities and the shipping to and from this country, thus preventing our giving aid to the allied countries with supplies which they so seriously need. The country is confronted with this prospect at a time when the war itself is still a fact, when the world is still in suspense as to negotiations for peace, when our troops are still being transported and when their means of transport is in urgent need of fuel.

"From whatever angle the subject may be viewed, it is apparent that such a strike in such circumstances would be the most far-reaching plan ever presented in this country to limit the facilities of production and distribution of a necessity of life, and thus indirectly to restrict the production and distribution of all the necessaries of life. A strike under these conditions is not only unjustifiable, it is unlawful.

"The action proposed has apparently been taken without any vote upon the specific proposition by the individual members of the United Mine Workers of America throughout the United States, an almost unprecedented proceeding. I cannot believe that any right of any Amrican worker needs for its protection the taking of this extraordinary step, and I am convinced that when the time and manner are considered it constitutes a fundamental attack, which is wrong both morally and legally, upon the rights of society and upon the welfare of our country. I feel convinced that individual members of the United Mine Workers would not vote, upon full consideration, in favor of such a strike under these conditions.

Public Interest Paramount

"When a movement reaches the point where it appears to involve virtually the entire productive capacity of the country with respect to one of the most vital necessities of daily domestic and industrial life, and when the movement is asserted in the circumstances I have stated and at a time and in a manner calculated to involve the maximum of danger to the public welfare in this critical hour of our countrys life, the public interest becomes the paramount consideration.

"In these circumstances I solemnly request both the national and the local officers and also the individual members of the United Mine Workers of America to recall all orders looking to a strike on November 11, and to take whatever steps may be necessary to prevent any stoppage of work.

"It is time for plain speaking. These matters with which we now deal touch not only the welfare of a class, but vitally concern the well-being, the comfort and the very life of all the people.

"I feel it my duty in the public interest to declare that any attempt to carry out the purposes of this strike and thus to paralyze the industry of the country, with the consequent suffering and distress of all our people, must be considered a grave moral and legal wrong against the government and the people of the United States. I can do nothing less than to say that the law will be enforced and means will be found to protect the interests of the nation in any emergency that may arise out of this unhappy business.

"I express no opinion on the merits of the controversy. I have already suggested a plan by which a settlement may be reached, and I hold myself in readiness, at the request of either or both sides, to appoint at once a tribunal to investigate all the facts; with a view to aiding in the earliest possible orderly settlement of the question at issue between the coal operators and the coal miners, to the end that the just rights not only of those interests but also of the general public may be fully protected."

"Situation Not Changed" Comment Of Mr. Lewis With Respect To Wilson's Plea

NO FORMAL REPLY EXPECTED FROM MINE WORKERS BEFORE WEDNESDAY WHEN EXECUTIVE BODY MEETS

PRESIDENT'S CABINET TO MEET

SPRINGFIELD, ILL, Oct. 27—John L. Lewis, acting President of the United Mine Workers on his arrival at his home here from Washington stated the situation was unchanged by the appeal of President Wilson to cancel the strike order.

The reply to the President's appeal will probably be drafted by the executive board of the union at a meeting to be held in Indianapolis Wednesday. The meeting was called to make financial arrangements for the walk out.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27—While awaiting the miners' answer to the request for withdrawal of the coal strike, government officials today were ready to act to protect the public interest if the coal strike is called.

There are several openings through which the government might step into the coal conference. The present contract which expires at the end of the war or April 1, 1920, was made by the Fuel Administration, a government agency. This was pointed out specifically by President Wilson in his warning to the miners Saturday as indicating the government considers the proposed strike unlawful.

The food control law also give the government an opportunity to take a hand in the strike through its provisions making it illegal to interfere with production and allowing the government to take over mines to insure continued production.

Even without this law officials here point out that the Supreme Court's broad definition of war powers would give the government plenty of latitude for action. In the case of war laws the Supreme Court declared that the government could do almost anything in the interest of national existence.

When the two sides of the coal controversy finally get together to discuss matters it is expected the government will not allow negotiations to drag. Miners in previously refusing to call off the strike said that prolonging negotiations was the aim of the operators. While preparing plans for a new industrial conference to take up the industrial situation in its broader aspect officials here today believed that a rescindation of the coal strike order would probably come.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27—The cabinet marked time Sunday in anticipation of word from John L. Lewis, president of the U. M. W. of A. as to what policy the leaders of the mine workers union would pursue in reference to the demands of President Wilson that they rescind their strike orders.

The strike will go into effect November 1st, but in administration circles here last night there was a report that the miners' representatives were considering calling their convention to debate whether or not they should withdraw the strike orders and accept the President's proposal to appoint a tribunal to bring about a settlement.

Meantime members of the cabinet prepared to present to the President at their meeting Tuesday suggestions of names for the personnel of the new committee, to be composed of persons who represent solely the public, at a new conference which will take the place of the ill-fated industrial conference.

The name of former President Taft, who served during the war as chairman of the National War Labor board, was mentioned as one of those who would likely be chosen by the President for service on the new body. Bernard M. Baruch, who was chairman of the public group in the industrial conference, is also expected to be named again by the President.

There was no disposition among the members of the cabinet today to be agitated over the coal strike. The individual members are of the opinion that the President's statement practically takes the form of a demand which the miners cannot refuse and that they will see the matter in much the same way as he portrayed it.

As the cabinet meets again Tuesday it will be ready then to take whatever further steps are thought necessary to protect the public's interest in the event the miners continue their threats to bring on a strike.

No administration official tonight would venture an opinion as to what measures the cabinet would adopt should the miners refuse to accede to the wishes of the President.

We are told that perfect harmony reigned at the Democratic meeting on Saturday evening. It is hard to stir up trouble in a bakers dozen.

The DuBois Courier says that a real Republican is one who votes the Republican ticket. No Republican should lose sight of this fact a week from tomorrow.

We have often heard that the angle of a man's moustache or his cigar denotes the state of his spirits. Now our suspicions are confirmed. We have just seen a picture of the Kaiser, sans pointed moustache, and with a pointed beard. In justice to the devil we must say that his looks are improved.

SOMETHING TO RECALL WHEN YOU BUY YOUR NEXT PAIR OF SHOES

Buyers of shoes at the present soaring prices may be consoled to learn that the Central Leather Company's report for the quarter ending September 30 shows a surplus, after charges and Federal taxes of $4,012,195, a gain over corresponding quarter of last year of $2,103,080 or 110 PER CENT.

Deducting preferred dividends, the earnings per share for this quarter are reckoned at $8.63, as compared with $3.34 for the similar quarter in 1918, or a gain of 258 PER CENT.

For the nine months of this year, in comparison with the same period past year, the ratio of net gains per share is $21.69 to $8.62 an increase of 251 PER CENT.

The citizen whose wages have increased in equal proportion as he empties his purse at the shoe store, will be glad to feel that the Leather Trust is also prosperous.

OUR INTERESTS AND THE COAL MINERS' INTEREST

The right of labor to organize in groups for their protection and mutual benefit should not be questioned. The justice and advisability of the eight hour day is a proven theory and comes the nearest to an ideal working condition which can be attained so far as hours of labor are concerned. Organizd labor has brought about practically every condition which it set about to accomplish.

Organized labor, or that particular branch of organized labor known as the United Mine Workers having won out in all their previous demands, now seeks to go a step farther and bring about conditions which will conflict with the best interests of the whole people. On this point, the whole people cannot agree with the miners, and this is probably the first time in history in which the miners have not had the good wishes of Mr. Average Citizen. It does not take any lengthy mental calculation for the ordinary man to tell where he will land if the demands of the miners are met entire. That it will double the cost of his winter supply of coal is indeed a conservative estimate.

Is it really the rank and file of the mine workers who make these demands or is it the controlling heads of the union who seek to make big gains to make themselves solid with the organization members. It is a well known fact that there is much dissention among those who would control the policy of the mine workers. Mr. Lewis evidently hopes to "bring home the bacon" and gain the plaudits of those who cast the ballots.

Organized labor has its rights and should jealously guard them. But when its demands are such that they inflict hardships on the whole people it invites disaster.

It is for the rank and file of the mine workers to pull a tight rein on their revolutionary leader, Mr. Lewis. He will run wild and drag the whole organization into disrepute.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Mrs. Edith Weigle of Harrisburg, was a Curwensville visitor on Saturday She left that afternoon for Lumber City, her old home for a visit of several weeks. Her maiden name was Lytle a daughter of Hudson Lytle, and prior to marriage taught school in this place.

Mrs. J. M. McKinley is in Uniontown, where she will spend several weeks with relatives and former acquaintances.

Miss Amelia Lesher, a professional nurse, has gone to Philadelphia, and is a guest in the home of Gordon Bloom.

The brick works at Lumber City was idle all of last week, pending some repairs to the boilers and other machinery. Superintendent Ashley Bloom informed us on Saturday that a start would be made today and the plant run steadily.

Mrs. Myrtle Burkett who spent most of the summer months with her brother T. F. McClure at Lichfield, Minn. has returned to Curwensville and will soon remove her household goods from Filbert street to the Unger property on State street.

The order of Protected Home Circle after an interesting meeting last Friday evening, repaired to the dime social in the Lutheran church and regaled themselves with substantial refreshments.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Minnhinett, at their home on South Side of Anderson creek, near the upper bridge, on Saturday morning a daughter.

Rev. Liwe, Jr., of Brookville, preached to an attentive congregation Sunday morning in Grace Lutheran church.

Through the kindness of W. K. Wrigley last Saturday, the Progress man was given a pleasure ride to Lumber City and Grampian, and noticed a few things as he went along. The hill leading down to the bridge at the Watts farm is not a very safe route to travel, from the fact that the railings are all gone from the posts at the lower side of the road and a number of the posts are so loose that a very small pressure would send them over the hill. From the foot of the hill to Lumber City part of the highway was in bad condition but for most part passable. The fall grain fields looked thrifty and able to come through the winter without much loss from a freeze. The brick works, one mile on this side of town is a valuable asset to the towns financial progress, although a number of comfortable homes have bene erected at the plant, and others are in progress of erection, making the population at that point several hundred souls. The business houses at Lumber City all seemed to be doing a thriving trade, despite the fact that a general store is maintained at the brick plant, owned and conducted by Ed. Ferguson. We did not tarry long in the river town, and took the hill road for Grampian finding the highway in far better condition than from Curwensville to Lumber City. There is not much of note in covering this lap of our journey, except that the corn shocks are still standing in the fields unshocked. Grampian is a busy place, or was last Saturday afternoon. Several new buildings are in course of erection and we were informed that a new and commodious structure would soon be erected on the ground which the fire burned over recently. Taking all things into consideration, Grampian, to our mind, is one of the busiest cleanest villages in this end of the county.

Roy Berger has moved onto the Clark Norris farm, lately vacated by Norman Shaffer.

Mrs. Horn, of Philipsburg, was entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Russell several days during the latter part of last week.

On account of the late arrival of the morning train and school boys noon period being so short, on some newspaper routes we have been unable to get boys out until after school in the evening. If this continues and is unsatisfactory to any readers and decide that they would prefer the paper by mail will you consider our position for which we are not accountable and let us order same for you by mail. We will appreciate this cooperation.

Beginning Saturday, October 25, Philadelphia Sunday papers will be 9c instead of 8c. The non-return privilege and increase per copy to boys to maintain the Sunday delivery service makes this imperative Other western Pennsylvania towns have received 9c for many months. Pittsburgh papers 10c as usual.

FAREWELL PARTY

A Farewell Party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs Will Phillips on Friday night, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Richner. About thirty of their best friends were present. The home was beautifully decorated with Autumn leaves and flowers, and it took the guests till 1:30 in the morning to express their regrets over them leaving town. Then an excellant lunch was served.

MARY PICKFORD IN

A Romance of the Redwoods

Folks, we're going to be frank with you. This is what YOU would term an "OLD" picture. That's why we booked it. Because it is one of those exquisite human documents of the screen that will live forever. It is one of those classics of the screen—REAL pictorial literature. And don't forget that this is the same MARY PICKFORD who delighted us in "DADDY LONG LEGS."

AURORA MARDIGANIAN HERSELF IN

"AUCTION OF SOULS"

This is the most unusual picture ever shown in this or any other theatre on earth. It shows, with vivid intensity, the terrible experiences that befell the girlhood of the peaceful Armenian nation. And how Miss Mardganian was the sole survivor of 500,000 girls that received unspeakable treatment at the hand of the infamous Turk. This picture is indorsed by Cardinal Gibbons, Governor Sproul, thousands of American women. We urge every adult to be present. Children under 16 not admitted. Read a description of the picture in tonight's paper.

Sauce For The Goose

We feel it unnecessary to make nothing more than a mere announcement when we play CONSTANCE TALMADGE, or her equally illustrious sister NORMA, because they are such favorites with our patrons. Suffice to say that this is a swift and joyous comedy taken from the play by the same name. Friend husband is an author and is paying too much attion to another woman. Faithful Constance effects a cure—then Hubby finds her in his friends bed! And that's only the beginning! Oh Boy.

WOLGAST ILL BUT M'COY WILL COME BACK FOR FIGHT

Manager McGowan was forced to switch principals in his boxing contest at the park tonight. He was advised by wire this morning by Johnny Wolgast that he had been taken suddenly ill and would have to ask for a postponement of his bout with Jack Fink the fighting marine.

Mr. McGowan immediately got in touch with Young McCoy, of Altoona, and McCoy agreed to come over and substitute for Wolgast.

The fighting "Devil Dog" arrived in Clearfield this morning in company with business manager Furnins, and looks very well able to take care of himself in any kind of company. Fink is under the management of Jimmy Dime the New Castle promoter, one of the best known followers of the boxing game in Western Pennsylvania, which fact alone, is an evidence of his class.

McCoy is in good shape and boxing fans may rest assured they will be given a real run for their money tonight.

TROXELL—SPACKMAN

Miss Hazel P. Spackman, of Woodland, formerly of Clearfield, and one of our most popular young ladies, and Mr. Glasgow B. Troxell, son of Mrs. Sarah Troxell and the late John M. Troxell, of this city, were married on Thursday evening at the parsonage of the Trinity Lutheran church, Bedford, Pa., by Rev. C. R. Allenbach, pastor, who was also formerly of Clearfield and friend and pastor of the young people. The young couple motored to Bedford, and the simple, yet impressive and beautiful ring ceremony of the Lutheran Church was used at seven o'clock.

Mr and Mrs. Troxell were unattended. The bride wore a beautiful tailor made gown with large picture hat to match. They will tour the western part of the state and will be at home in Clearfield after the third of November. The best wishes of a large circle of friends for a happy wedded life go with these young people, in which the Progress joins.

Washday and Your Own Good Health

Have you ever considered how washday is related to your own good health? Physicians generally concede that there is much need for being especially cautious on washday during the fall and winter months.

The hot water and cold, the dampness, the steaming, and the exposure of washday are all of them done away with when you send us your family washing.

We help you protect your health—and we do your washing with the same thoroughness and consideration you would give to it yourself. Moreover, we sterilize as well as cleanse the things that come to us.

Try our Family Laundry Service these fall and winter days. Telephone and we will instruct our driver to call for your family bundle.

WINBURNE LODGE I. O. O. F. INSTALL NEW OFFICERS

Winburne Lodge No. 61, I. O. O. F., met in regular session Friday, October 17th, at which time the lodge was visited by District Deputy Grand Master H. K. Smith, of Clearfield, and staff, who installed officers for the current term. Visiting brothers were present from Clearfield, Allport and Forest City Lodge, of Kylertown. After the close of the meeting many of the visiting and local members gave short talks.

Forest City Lodge met in extra session Thursday, October 23rd, and at this meeting the newly elected officers were installed in their respective offices for the current term, by District Deputy Grand Master H. K. Smith and staff. Winburne members returned the visit of the Friday before. Philadelphia was represented by one member, Allport was well represented and about eighteen members from Clearfield were present.

Forest City Lodge also served delightful refreshments after the meeting and the participants were reluctant to break up the gathering even after the hour hand of the clock had passed the largest figure on the dial.

In the short speeches that were given everything that was said was said for a purpose. The orphans home at Meadville, Penna, was the most discussed topic and all present showed great interest in this branch of the work.

District Deputy Grand Master Smith and staff, together with friends, left both organizations more enthusiastic about the work. Nothing is better than to meet such men as represented Clearfield, and Odd Fellows who attended these meetings considered them pleasant, uplifting and profitable.

EAGLER GETS FOUR YEAR SENTENCE TO THE PENITENTIARY

Herman Eagler, the LaJose youth, who shot Gilbert Tozer at LaJose several months ago, while endeavoring to escape arrest at the hands of Constable George Worrell and a posse, was sentenced to the penitentiary by Judge Bell this morning.

At the time of the shooting Constable Worrell, young Tozer and another deputy, went to the Eagler home for the purpose of arresting the young man for stealing an automobile. Eagler dashed out the back door of the house and when Tozer called upon him to halt, he blazed away with a revolver, the bullet lodging in Tozer's side, inflicting a painful wound. Eagler got away but was later arrested by the State Police at Loretta, Pa.

He entered a plea of guilty to felonious shooting and was given a fine of $100, costs of prosecution and not more than twelve nor less than four years in the penitentiary.

THIS COLUMN FOR BOYS AND GIRLS AND PARENTS

Big Facts and Big Berries

BY ARTHUR DETMERS,
Francis W. Parker School

"Remember, my son, that you cannot remember everything."

Does that seem useless advice? I know it isn't. Many boys and girls go at a lesson as they would put dominoes into a box—everything in the lesson is just as big and important as every other thing. This is never so.

There are always big facts and little facts, just as there are big berries and small ones on any bush. Get the big berries first; if the basket isn't full, pick the others afterward.

But how can you tell important facts from unimportant ones? It takes practice to do that perfectly, but if you keep at it the skill comes. When you attack a lesson, always ask yourself

this question, and always be sure you get an answer: What is the lesson about? It seems simple, but you probably have no idea how many boys and girls can't tell, even after they have studied faithfully. They know a lot of things about the lesson, but they don't really know the lesson. Get a definite answer to your question.

Nearly always the lesson is about Somebody or Something. When you have discovered this, your study consists in putting together all the facts that seem necessary, or at least important, to understand and explain that Person or Thing. Do not spend your time on minor facts, that may be interesting enough, but are not essential to a clear understanding of the subject.

For instance, the history lesson is about the French and Indian War. Now what do we want to know about any war? What were the causes, the big events, the results: that's all. When you know clearly and surely the answer to these three questions, you know your lesson. Take the questions one by one, and when you know the answer, you may know that you know the lesson.

(Next week: "Questions to Ask Yourself," by Miss Jennie Hall).

The Birds On Your Map

BY ADELIA BELLE BEARD.

Mobilization begins early. July often sees the BOBOLINK on his road to Brazil and in August other little citizens of the air gather in more or less noisy companies and regiments for their annual evacuation of the north. But it is later that the great rush to get under way is made; later still, sometimes into December, loiterers are seen winging their flight to lands of sunshine and plenty.

BLACKBIRDS and SWALLOWS gather for the onward march in August, the Blackbirds headed for the southern part of the United States, the Swallows for the extreme Southern States and South America. Find the location of your town or city on the map, run your pen handle down from there to these places and you will be on the trail of the birds.

September is the month when WARBLERS—including the little Black and White Creeper and the beautiful, orange-breasted Blackburnian Warbler—assemble and pass over our heads at night on their long trip to Central and South America. In October the WHIP-POOR-WILL waves his wing to us and is off to his winter haunts somewhere south of the United States. In October and November birds of the SPARROW FAMILY (not the English Sparrows) begin their journey. Look for them now. When you see a dusky flock of small birds rise from a field and settle again in low trees or shrubbery, you may be pretty sure they are Sparrows making ready for flight many to the Gulf States, some to Mexico.

Central America is often chosen as a winter resort by the ORIOLE of the swinging nest and his brother the ORCHARD ORIOLE. The valiant KINGBIRD favors both Central and South America.

The chief highways of the birds follow coastlines, mountain chains, and river valleys. Various stops are made, but the plucky little airmen do not hesitate to take long ocean voyages when necessary. The GOLDEN PLOVER, flying from Nova Scotia to South America, travels two thousand four hundred miles over the sea.

The Rev. Dr. James S. McGaw, executive secretary for the Third World's Christian Citizenship Conference, in a statement issued at its headquarters, 209 Ninth street, Pittsburgh, said regarding the principles underlying the conference and some of the concrete questions to be considered:

"The Conference will make real the great message of the Scripture by applying it to actual world needs. It will bring Divinity closer to humanity in all public thinking. It will answer a multitude of questions that arise in every human heart in this tremendous hour of crisis. It will allay the fears and inspire the souls of men as they undertake the stupendous task of the rehabilitation of a war-worn world."

Much Assistance Rendered by Dogs, Guinea Fowls and Turkey Gobblers —Use Steel Traps.

Dogs, guinea fowl and turkey gobblers help to keep away chicken hawks. But for catching them it is recommended to set spring traps on the top of posts, poles or tree stumps where they may be seen to be in the habit of perching and where other birds or animals would not be likely to get caught. A good gun in the hands of a crack shot is a good exterminator.

Foley's Honey and Tar

COMPOUND

AN OLD RELIABLE FAMILY REMEDY, recommended for coughs, colds, tickling of the throat, spasmodic croup, whooping cough, la grippe, and bronchial coughs, hoarseness, etc.

The First Dose Gave Relief

C. E. Summers, Holdredge, Neb., writes: "Some time ago I contracted a very severe cough and cold due to exposure. My cough got so bad I could hardly sleep for two or three nights. A friend of mine recommended Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and I got a 50c bottle. The very first dose relieved me. I took a second dose before going to bed and can truthfully say I did not cough once all night. By using as directed the next two days my cough was entirely gone, and I give Foley's Honey and Tar full credit for my speedy and permanent recovery."

For more than thirty years Foley's Honey and Tar has been used with satisfaction and success.

SAVE COAL Buy A Furnace Brush

Clean Flues Make Easier Heating. Save Coal In This Crisis

The smallest furnace boiler can eat up an enormous amount of coal if you allow a heavy coating of soot to accumulate on the flues.

Keep them bright and shining with one of our new furnace brushes. Long handles, stiff bristles enable you to reach every nook and cranny.

Rid the flues of soot and watch how much slower the coal pile goes down.
